

CapRelo is a full-service global relocation management company dedicated to treating you with care and respect. We come to work every day to make life easier for our clients, employees, suppliers, and partners. Whether you're recruiting or retaining key talent, our Low-Stress Relocation Process® ensures your program runs smoothly.

History

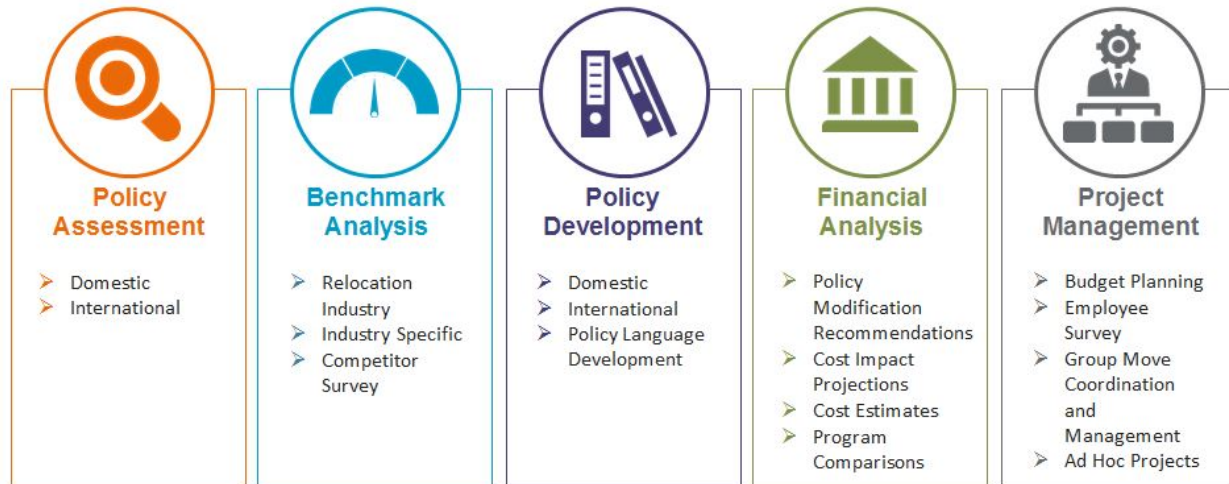

CapRelo has been offering domestic and global mobility services since 1997. We successfully perform more than 15,000 seamless domestic relocations and global assignments annually, in and out of 160 countries. We manage mobility services for more than 100 clients, including Fortune 500 companies and state and federal government agencies. We have been a U.S. Federal Government supplier since 2003.

Services

We offer comprehensive employee mobility services, including but not limited to:

Our Consulting Services division provides comprehensive relocation policy review and development, consultation services and financial analysis. We maintain a robust and confidential library of survey data, client and prospect policies from which we can provide current advice and benchmark analyses.

Find out why our customers regularly describe their experience as “superlative service” and why they take “great comfort in the relationship.”
